

MAN IN AMBUSH SHOTS DOWN HIS WIFE AND BROTHER

Wounds Pair Who Deceived
Him and Then Attempts to End His Life.

CAMDEN, N. J., Dec. 15.—Charles Andrews, fifty-five years old, ambushed his wife, thirty-five years old, from whom he was separated, and his brother, Edward, thirty-one years old, early today and shot them down. The wounded pair are in Cooper Hospital, where it is said they cannot recover. Andrews is in jail, minus his left thumb, which he shot off in an attempt at suicide. He professes himself disappointed because the bullets were not immediately fatal.

The trouble in the Andrews family dates back nearly a year. Edward Andrews was boarding with his elder brother and his wife. Charles saw evidences of undue friendship between his wife and his brother and drove them from his home. Edward established a home in another part of the city and Charles says his wife spent much of her time there.

Charles attempted to kill himself last summer. His injuries laid him up for months and during his enforced idleness he brooded over his troubles. His determination to kill his wife and his brother was reached two weeks ago, but opportunity did not offer until today.

The elder brother hid himself in a doorway near his brother's home. He watched for hours in the cold, knowing that Edward and the woman were out. When they came home he confronted them and began to shoot.

Mrs. Andrews was shot twice, one wound being in the abdomen. Edward Andrews was shot in the side. Two bullets went wild.

After the shooting Charles Andrews went to a saloon in the vicinity, took a drink and told the bartender he was going to kill himself. While the bartender was telephoning for a policeman Andrews disappeared.

An hour later he gave himself up at Police Headquarters with his left thumb shot off. He said he had tried to fire a bullet into his heart, but was so nervous he found it necessary to hold the pistol with both hands and an accidental discharge had carried away his thumb. This misadventure made him change his mind about suicide.

KILLED IN RIOT OF STRIKERS WHO FIGHT THE POLICE

Chicago Garment Worker
Shot Dead, Another Fatally
Wounded and Officer Dying.

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—In a clash between striking garment workers and police today one workman was shot dead, another fatally wounded and several combatants on both sides seriously injured. Non-union tailors employed by B. Kuppenheimer & Company were being escorted to a shop and had been assailed by the strikers.

Charles Werneck, one of the policemen injured, may die. A striker, Mark Lingewitz, shot through the lungs by one of the police guards of the non-union workers, is reported dying at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. The striker who was killed was P. Nogarechia, a giant in stature, who led in the fighting.

Policeman Albert Winge was beaten about the head so severely he was unable to return to the police station for duty. Three other policemen were so badly beaten they had to be given medical attention.

The affray was reported to Inspector Healy by the injured policemen as an unprovoked assault. The guards said they were standing on the corner when ten or eleven strikers approached and asked them what they were doing. The police revealed their identity, whereupon, they assert, the strikers began the attack, aided by others who rushed to the scene immediately. Police reserves stationed at the garment factory rescued their comrades.

Only one arrest has been made. Sergt. Nagel, one of the rescuing force, caught and held Stanislaus Bricke and he was identified by the injured policemen as one of their assailants.

Black Furs Lead Fashions This Season!
And the Supply Has Hardly Kept Pace With the Demand!
In Spite of This We Have Assembled
Enormous Collections of Black Furs
Of Dependable Quality at Moderate Prices
Besides—Tomorrow We Will Present Special Collection of Black Fox Furs at Prices that Are Absurdly Small—$15 to $26.50 Will Purchase Either Scarfs or Muffs

Months ago when our representative was in Europe collecting fine furs for this season all the leading furriers of Europe predicted an unusual vogue of black furs. This was seconded by the great fashion designers of Paris.

When our expert was in Europe last Summer he left nothing undone to get the best models. When he returned he set American furriers busy copying them, and the result is that people who wish the finest black furs come to Wanamaker's.

Every day we add new collections of black furs, so that our assemblage is always complete—with the

Choicest black lynx,
Finest black fox—all from the Yukon country and the far Northwest.

Black wolf—some so choice that it looks like black lynx. We have none of the flat, dull sorts.

Black cat lynx, which is very good-looking, durable and quite inexpensive.

Black raccoon—a very special collection of unusually fluffy rich furs.

Prices are too many to quote, but in every instance extremely moderate.

Extraordinary Collection of 280 Sets of Fine Black Fox for Tomorrow

Every scarf and every muff is choice fox. Excellently dyed and every piece of fur is beautiful and fluffy.

This is rather an unexpected event, but one of the leading furriers of New York—the man who is renowned for his high standard of choice black fox furs—closed out to us a surplus collection. We were very glad to get these furs, because they will make such beautiful Christmas gifts.

Either scarfs or muffs at $15, $16.50 and $23. These may be selected in beautiful matched sets, or we will be pleased to sell either scarfs or muffs separately.

Fur Salons, Second floor, Old Building.

The Finely Bound and Rare Book Alcove Just Off the Extensive Book Section, on the Main floor, Along the 10th street Side of the Store is a corner rather exclusive and most inviting to people of leisure who care for beautiful bindings, old books, first editions and rare editions. Many people have an impression that fine books are an extravagance, but in many instances they cost very little more than the commoner bindings.

Thus far, this little quiet corner has been the resort of a few people that have stumbled into it, who have found it to be a bonanza. To their surprise they have learned of our system of visiting the old book shops of England and Scotland, and gathering in odd and rare books, which we have had the satisfaction of selling at moderate prices because of our otherwise large all-the-year-round book business.

Many book lovers come once a week and frequently find, from the incoming ships, something of interest among books odd, rare and first editions, some exquisitely bound, and some plainly bound, and some finely illustrated. The man who wants to collect a real library, browses around a great deal picking up single volumes, little sets of two and three volumes, and rare editions of large sets of the old and favorite standard authors.

To many, the little out of the way fine book corner is a welcome surprise and a revelation. Sometimes we find that the same editions have gone into the auction rooms, and follow up the sale to find that a knowing collector has received many times our prices by selling them at auction. We are not jealous of the profit that some one else gets, because our method is to make fair and moderate prices and get back again to Dublin, London, Liverpool, Birmingham and wherever there are collectors, to lay in a fresh stock and strip them of their old bindings and turn them over to the master craft of English binders, who are artists in their profession.

It will interest those who read this advertisement to see the many copies of books we have that are illustrated by Cruikshank, Phiz, Leech, Birket Foster and many other illustrators of the Georgian and early Victorian eras.
